

Lynn Andrews' Directory of Ministers

Elizabeth Adams

Environmental Scientist/Manager

Facilitator/Spirit, Body & Earth Healer

Richmond, California

E-mail: elizajean7@aol.com

Sacred Environmental Work

I work as a scientist and manager overseeing, directing and facilitating cleanup of contaminated air, water and soil. As a Spiritual Healer and Earth Steward, I bring parties with varying and often opposing objectives and perspectives together to forge a unified focus on environmental cleanup. In this position I utilize many different facilitation techniques and skills to find common interests and common objectives between disparate parties. In a sacred way, I work with power animal energies and treat all individuals with respect and honor throughout the process of negotiation and clean up. I utilize my ability to sense and choreograph energy within a group to stimulate movement during periods of stagnation and delay, and to help support groups toward a resolution of their conflicts and issues. In addition, I work with communities in addressing environmental issues and concerns, and I also teach members of affected communities about the environment.

Healing

I am a spiritual healer and work one-on-one with those who want to explore personal issues or energy blocks which keep them from reaching their full potential, and/or a state of self love and connection to spirit. I use several healing modalities focusing on intuitive healing practices including hands on healing and movement work, sound and stone/crystal work, and guided meditations. I have served as a Mentor in the Lynn Andrews Center for Sacred Arts and Training with groups of individuals who are seeking tools to develop and support personal healing and a strong connection to the spiritual.

Credentials

- B.A., Johnston College of the University of Redlands, Biology and Humanities
- M.S., University of San Francisco, Environmental Management
- Graduate, mentor and continuing education student in the Lynn Andrews Center for Sacred Arts and Training
- Ordained Minister, Spiritual Healer and Earth Steward, International Assembly of Spiritual Healers and Earth Stewards Congregations
- Extensive studies/performance career in dance, energy movement
- Dael Walker Crystal Healing Workshops

Interests

I am interested in developing my work as a spiritual healer, and as a facilitator for groups. I am available to speak about environmental issues, facilitation, interest-based decision making and energy work within groups.